This Directory Index is a compilation of the Denver Public Library’s collection of City Directories and Telephone Books that is organized by municipality and county; as well as by year.

This list includes all the towns and cities included in each book. For example, if the city of Broomfield is included in the 1979 Denver directory and the 1993 Boulder directory, both listings will appear under the Broomfield heading.

(The town of Brownville, located at the base of Brown mountain, was completely buried by a rock and mud slide on June 29, 1912. There had already been several devastating slides, particularly snow-slides, in the history of the town. In 1912 the townspeople had plenty of warning and no casualties were recorded. Some say that the town is buried 100 feet below the surface of the rock pile at the bottom of Brown Gulch. Only a marker remains today). (See our Clippings File).
